SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SONOMA

15 CALIFORNIA COASTKEEPER, a California ) Case No. SCV-268718 non-profit corporation, ) Petitioner, )
v. )
COUNTY OF SONOMA, a legal subdivision ) California Code of Civil Procedure § 1085; of the state of California, ) California Constitution, art. X, § 2; California's Public Trust Doctrine.
Respondent.

1       I.      Introduction

2           1.     California Coastkeeper hereby submits this Petition for Writ of Mandate and 3     Injunctive and Declaratory Relief.

4           2.     The Petition requests this Court issue a Writ of Mandate pursuant to California
5     Code of Civil Procedure section 1085 enjoining the County of Sonoma from issuing water well
6     permits unless and until the County has adopted and implemented a program via ordinance or 7     other legal requirement, consistent with its mandatory duties as an administrator of the public
8     trust, to consider the individual and cumulative impact of permits issuance on the public trust and 9     to protect so far as feasible public trust resources, including the Russian River, its tributaries, and 10    the endangered Coho salmon and other wildlife that inhabit them.

11       II.     The Parties

12       A.    California Coastkeeper

13           3.     Petitioner California Coastkeeper is a non-profit 501(c)(3) public benefit 14     corporation organized under the laws of California in 1999.

15           4.     California Coastkeeper's office is located at 1100 11th Street, 3rd Floor, 16     Sacramento, CA 95814.

17           5.     California Coastkeeper's mission is to unite Waterkeeper programs statewide to 18     fight for swimmable, fishable, and drinkable waters for all Californians. California Coastkeeper's
19     membership includes Coachella Valley Waterkeeper, Humboldt Baykeeper, Inland Empire
20     Waterkeeper, Los Angeles Waterkeeper, Monterey Coastkeeper, Orange County Coastkeeper, 21     Russian Riverkeeper, San Diego Coastkeeper, Santa Barbara Channelkeeper, and Yuba River
22     Waterkeeper.

23           6.     Since 1999, California Coastkeeper has dedicated time, effort, and financial 24     resources to advocating for the healthy river management and proactive adaptation to drought
25     conditions and climate change necessary to preserve a Russian River watershed with healthy
26     ecosystems, including Coho salmon populations, for the use and enjoyment of its members, its 27     constituent organizations' members, and the public.

28           7.     California Coastkeeper members and/or members of its constituent organizations

1 live and/or recreate in and around the waters of the Russian River and/or its tributaries in Sonoma
2 County.

3       8. California Coastkeeper members and/or members of its constituent organizations
4 own property through which Russian River and/or its tributaries flow.

5       9. The interests of California Coastkeeper, its constituent organizations, and their 6 members have been, are being, and will continue to be adversely affected by the ongoing failure of 7 the County of Sonoma to comply with California law protecting the Russian River watershed and 8 ecosystems.

9       10. The continuing acts and omissions alleged herein will irreparably harm California
10 Coastkeeper, its constituent organizations, and their members, for which harm they have no plain, 11 speedy or adequate remedy at law.

12       11. The relief sought herein will redress the harms to California Coastkeeper caused by 13 the County of Sonoma's failures to comply with California law.

14       B. County of Sonoma

15       12. Respondent County of Sonoma is a legal subdivision of the State of California, 16 created by the California legislature effective February 18, 1850.

17       13. The County of Sonoma is the entity legally responsible for issuing permits for 18 construction, reconstruction, and destruction of wells for groundwater extraction in the 19 unincorporated area of Sonoma County outside the nine incorporated cities.

20       14. The County of Sonoma's Permit and Resource Management Department, also 21 known as "Permit Sonoma," was created in 1995 as the County's consolidated land use planning
22 and development permitting agency, dedicated to overseeing land development and construction.

23       15. According to Permit Sonoma, the agency's mission is "to serve the people of 24 Sonoma County by providing a customer-focused process for the orderly development of real 25 property, balanced with resource stewardship under the general policy direction of the Board of 26 Supervisors and to develop and maintain standards that protect the health and safety of the public."
27 (Permit Sonoma, About Us, <<https://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/About-Us/>> [as of June 22, 28 2021].)

1       16. Sonoma County Code of Ordinances chapter 25B sets forth standards regulating the
2 placement, construction, reconstruction, abandonment and destruction of wells and borings.

3       17. Sonoma County Code of Ordinances section 25B-5 specifically delineates the 4 water well construction permit application process and criteria for application approval.

5       18. In 2015, Sonoma County Ordinance No. 6121 amended all sections of chapter 25B
6 in substantial part, including replacement of nearly all language in section 25B-5. (Sonoma Cty.
7 Ord. No. 6121; see Internet Archive, Draft Ordinance with Strike-Outs and Underlines: Chapter
8 25B – Water Wells, <https://web.archive.org/web/20161108091249/http://www.sonoma-county.org/prmd/docs/misc/ws\_ordinance-chapter25b-water-wells-draft-strike-out-underlined-draft-20150702.pdf> [as of June 22, 2021].)

11      19. The Permit Sonoma webpage entitled Draft Water Well Construction Standards
12 Ordinance and the attendant linked documents are no longer accessible at the historical URL
13 <<http://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/News/Draft-Water-Well-Construction-Standards-Ordinance/>>, but the page as archived on November 8, 2016 may be viewed at 15 <<https://web.archive.org/web/20161108091249/http://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/News/Draft-Water-Well-Construction-Standards-Ordinance/>> [as of June 22, 2021].

17      20. Subdivision (e)(1), added by Ordinance No. 6121, provides that a “ministerial 18 permit application shall be approved, and a well construction, well reconstruction or well 19 destruction permit issued” when the proposed well specifications conform to the structural 20 integrity and water quality requirements detailed in Chapter 25B and, where applicable, any 21 corresponding discretionary land use permit has been issued and conditions fulfilled. (Sonoma 22 Cty. Code Ord., § 25B-5, subd. (3)(1); see Permit Sonoma, Draft Ordinance with Strike-Outs and 23 Underlines, supra.)

24      21. County water well permit issuance requirements contain no reference to or 25 consideration of public trust resources or uses.

26      22. Permit Sonoma’s Policy and Procedure No. 9-2-28, implementing Sonoma County
27 Code of Ordinances section 7-12 regulating building permits in water scarce areas, sets forth
28 requirements for water well pump testing “for the purpose of demonstrating compliance with

1 minimum water quantity requirements of the Sonoma County Code for residential construction in
2 water scarce areas or second dwelling units in marginal water availability areas of Sonoma
3 County.” (Permit Sonoma, Policies and Procedures,
4 <<https://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/Policies-and-Procedures/#well-septic/>> [as of June 22,
5 2021].)

6       23.     The sole criteria for a successful pump test are: (1) a sustained water yield of “at 7 least one gallon per minute per dwelling unit for new or replacement dwellings located in water
8 scarce areas and for second dwelling units in marginal water availability areas,” and (2) well
9 recovery of 90% within a 72 hour period. (Ibid.) Testing is required to be conducted between July
10 15 and October 1 of a given year and must demonstrate the sustained yield over a variable time
11 period (8–72 hours), depending on the number of connections intended for well service. (Ibid.)

12       24.     County well yield and recovery requirements contain no reference to or 13 consideration of public trust resources or uses.

14       25.     Between September 1, 2018 and August 21, 2020, Permit Sonoma issued at least 15 404 water well permits for parcels within the Russian River watershed. (See Exhibit A.)

16       26.     Permit application files available to the public at 17 <https://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/Services/Permit-History-Search/> and 18 <http://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/Services/Document-Search/> are incomplete, with many files 19 containing no data.

20       27.     None of the files county’s files relating to well permits contain reference to or 21 consideration of public trust resources or uses.

22       III.     Jurisdiction and Venue

23       28.     This Court has the authority to issue a writ of mandate to the County of Sonoma as 24 the Supreme, appellate, and superior courts in California have original jurisdiction over actions in 25 the nature of mandamus, and the Court therefore may issue such a writ to any party over which it
26 has proper jurisdiction. (Cal. Const., art. VI, § 10; see also Civ. Proc. Code § 1085.)

27       29.     This Court has jurisdiction over claims against the County of Sonoma pursuant to 28 Code of Civil Procedure section 1085, as California Coastkeeper seeks to compel from the County

1 “the performance of an act which the law specifically enjoins, as a duty resulting from an office,
2 trust, or station.” (Civ. Proc. Code, § 1085(a).)

3       30.     Venue is proper in Sonoma County because the causes of action alleged in this 4 Petition arose in Sonoma County, and because the impacts of the County’s activity are and will 5 continue to be imposed on the residents and ecosystems of Sonoma County.

6       IV.     Statutory and Legal Background

7       A.     Code of Civil Procedure Section 1085

8       31.     Code of Civil Procedure section 1085 is a codification of the common law remedy
9 of traditional mandamus. (Dowell v. Superior Court of San Francisco (1956) 47 Cal.2d 483, 486– 10 87.)

11       32.     Section 1085(a) allows a party to seek a writ of mandate “by any court to any 12 inferior tribunal, corporation, board, or person, to compel the performance of an act which the law
13 specially enjoins, as a duty resulting from an office, trust, or station.” (Code Civ. Pro., § 1085(a).)

14       33.     A writ of mandate is available where a state agency “has a nondiscretionary duty 15 under the law to take action and has failed or refused to do so.” (Cal. Assn. of Sanitation Agencies
16 v. State Water Res. Control Bd. (2012) 208 Cal.App.4th 1438, 1460.)

17       34.     While issuance of such a writ lies in the discretion of the court, “where one has a 18 substantial right to protect or enforce, and this may be accomplished by such a writ, and there is 19 no other plain, speedy and adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law, he is entitled as a matter 20 of right to the writ, or, in other words, it would be an abuse of discretion to refuse it.” (Gay v.
21 Torrance (1904) 145 Cal. 144, 147–148.)

22       B.     The Public Trust Doctrine

23       35.     The legal concept that certain resources (e.g. navigable waters) and resource uses
24 (e.g. commerce, fishing) must be preserved for the benefit of the public dates back as far as early 25 Roman and English law. (Envlt. Law Found. v. State Water Res. Control Bd. (“Environmental 26 Law Foundation”) (2018) 26 Cal.App.5th 844, 856; see also Nat. Audubon Society v. Super. Ct.
27 (“Audubon”) (1983) 33 Cal.3d 419, 433–34; Joseph L. Sax, The Public Trust Doctrine in Natural 28 Resource Law: Effective Judicial Intervention, 68 Mich. L. Rev. 471 (1970).)

1       36. The United States Supreme Court established in Illinois Central Railroad v. Illinois
2 (1892) 146 U.S. 387 that states hold the land under navigable waters “in trust for the people of the 3 State, in order that they may enjoy the navigation of the waters and carry on commerce over
4 them.” (Environmental Law Foundation, 26 Cal.App.5th at pp. 856–57 (quoting Long Sault
5 Development Co. v. Call (1916) 242 U.S. 272, 278–79).)

6       37. The public trust doctrine is an “affirmation of the duty of the state to protect 7 the people's common heritage of streams, lakes, marshlands and tidelands,” enabled by its 8 “authority as sovereign to exercise a continuous supervision and control.” (Audubon, 33 Cal.3d at 9 pp. 441, 425.)

10       38. Early application of the public trust doctrine focused on the protection of 11 “navigation, commerce and fisheries.” (See Audubon, 33 Cal.3d at p. 434, quoting Marks v.
12 Whitney (1971) 6 Cal.3d 251, 259.)

13       39. “Wild fish have always been recognized as a species of property the general right 14 and ownership of which is in the people of the state,” i.e. public trust resources. (Cal. Trout v.
15 State Wat. Res. Control Bd. (1989) 207 Cal.App.3d 585, 630.) “The title to and property in the fish
16 within the waters of the state are vested in the state of California and held by it in trust for the 17 people of the state.” (Ibid., quoting People v. Monterey Fish Products Co. (1925) 195 Cal. 548, 18 563.)

19       40. “[P]arties acquiring rights in trust property generally hold those rights subject to the 20 trust, and can assert no vested right to use those rights in a manner harmful to the trust.”
21 (Audubon, 33 Cal.3d at p. 437.)

22       41. A property right in water is “only a usufruct—an interest that incorporates the 23 needs of others.” (Environmental Law Foundation, 26 Cal.App.5th at p. 856 [internal quotations 24 omitted].)

25       42. It is the State's responsibility to account for “the public nature and the 26 interdependency which the physical quality of the resource implies.” (Ibid.)

27       C. The Public Trust Doctrine in California

28       43. The public trust doctrine is codified in the California Constitution, which states that

1 “[u]se of the people’s waters is of vital public concern, and all waters shall be managed for the 2 greatest public benefit.” (Cal. Const., art. X, § 2.)

3       44. Section 102 of the Water Code provides that “All water within the State is the 4 property of the people of the State.”

5       45. The Water Code further provides that “the State shall determine what water of the 6 State, surface and underground, can be converted to public use or controlled for public protection”
7 (§ 104), as well as “in what way the water of the State, both surface and underground, should be 8 developed for the greatest public benefit” (§ 105).

9       46. The California Supreme Court has recognized that “[t]he objective of the public 10 trust has evolved in tandem with the changing public perception of the values and uses of 11 waterways” and that “the state is not burdened with an outmoded classification favoring one mode
12 of utilization over another.” (Audubon, 33 Cal.3d at p. 434 [internal quotations omitted].)

13       47. California’s public trust doctrine has evolved to protect a “far broader” range of 14 protected public trust uses, including “the right to hunt, bathe or swim, and the right to preserve
15 [trust resources] in their natural state.” (Berkeley v. Superior Court (1980) 26 Cal.3d 515, 521.)

16       48. The California Supreme Court has held one of the most important public trust uses 17 to be “the preservation of those lands in their natural state, so that they may serve as ecological 18 units for scientific study, as open space, and as environments which provide food and habitat for 19 birds and marine life, and which favorably affect the scenery and climate of the area.” (Marks v.
20 Whitney, 6 Cal.3d at pp. 259–260; see also Environmental Law Foundation, 26 Cal.App.5th at p.
21 853 (“The public trust doctrine . . . protects the public’s right to use, enjoy and preserve the Scott
22 River in its natural state and as a habitat for fish” [internal punctuation omitted]).)

23       49. California’s public trust doctrine further imposes “an affirmative duty to take the 24 public trust into account in the planning and allocation of water resources.” (Audubon, 33 Cal.3d
25 at p. 446.)

26       50. In National Audubon, the California Supreme Court expanded the contemplated
27 scope of planning and allocation activities that implicate the State’s public trust duty to encompass 28 “diversions from a nonnavigable tributary [that] impair the public trust in a downstream river or

1 lake.” (Id. at p. 436.)

2       51. Prior to approval of any such allocation, state courts and agencies must “consider 3 the effect of [grants of usufructuary rights] upon interests protected by the public trust, and 4 attempt, so far as feasible, to avoid or minimize any harm to those interests.” (Id. at p. 426.)

5       52. While the State always retains the power to reconsider allocation decisions made 6 “after due consideration of their effect on the public trust,” its duty to do so is “even stronger when 7 that decision failed to weigh and consider public trust uses.” (Id. at p. 447.)

8       53. Citizens may enforce a State agency’s affirmative duty to comply with the public
9 trust doctrine in court. (Audubon, 33 Cal.3d at p. 431 n.11, citing Marks v. Whitney, 6 Cal.3d at 10 pp. 261–62; see also Center for Biological Diversity (2008) 166 Cal.App.4th 1349, 1366 [“the 11 public retains the right to bring actions to enforce the trust when public agencies fail to discharge 12 their duty”].)

13       54. A writ of mandate pursuant to section 1085 may lie for violations of California’s 14 public trust doctrine. (See San Francisco Baykeeper, Inc. v. State Lands Com. (2015) 242
15 Cal.App.4th 202, 242.)

16       D. The State’s Public Trust Duty Where Groundwater Extraction Adversely Affects 17           Public Trust Resources and Uses

18       55. Environmental Law Foundation, supra, was originally filed in 2009 for injunctive
19 relief in a specific case related to the Scott River, but later appealed by all parties in order to 20 determine two questions of law “in the absence of a specific and concrete allegation.” (26
21 Cal.App.5th at p. 851.)

22       56. Finding the matter justiciable as a case of great public interest, the court of appeal
23 considered the merits of the case de novo. (Ibid.)

24       57. Affirming the trial court’s holdings, Environmental Law Foundation declared 25 explicitly in 2018 that “the public trust doctrine applies if the extraction of groundwater adversely 26 affects a navigable waterway.” (Id. at p. 859, quoting *Envil. Law Found. v. State Water Res.
27 Control Bd.*, Case No. 34-2010-80000583 (Super. Ct. Sacramento Cty., 2016, Dkt. No. 239).)

28       58. The Environmental Law Foundation court explained that the application of the

1 public trust doctrine “begins and ends with whether the challenged activity harms a navigable
2 waterway and thereby violates the public trust. . . . As a consequence, the dispositive issue is not 3 the source of the activity, or whether the water that is diverted or extracted is itself subject to the 4 public trust.” (26 Cal.App.5th at pp. 859–60.)

5 59. The court described this holding as “unremarkable and well supported by the facts
6 and logic of National Audubon and the precedent upon which it relies.” (Id. at p. 859.)

7 60. Accordingly, “if the County’s issuance of well permits will result in extraction of 8 groundwater adversely affecting the public right to use the [stream] for trust purposes, the County
9 must take the public trust into consideration and protect public trust uses when feasible.” (Id. at 10 pp. 853–54.)

11 61. The court made further findings consistent with the applicability of the public trust 12 doctrine to groundwater extraction activities adversely affecting public trust resources and uses.
13 (See id. at pp. 863–69, 852 n.2.)

14 62. The court found that there is “no conflict” between the Groundwater Management
15 Act of 1992 “authorizing the county to adopt a groundwater management plan” and the common
16 law “requiring it to comply with the public trust doctrine.” (Id. at p. 853.)

17 63. Similarly, the Environmental Law Foundation court held that the Sustainable 18 Groundwater Management Act of 2014 (“SGMA”) does not “occupy the field” or “replace or 19 fulfill public trust duties.” (Id. at p. 867.) In enacting SGMA, “the Legislature went out of its way
20 to state that SGMA supplements and does not alter the common law . . . they coexist and neither 21 occupies the field to the exclusion of the other.” (Id. at p. 854, quoting Env'tl. Law Found. v. State
22 Water Res. Control Bd., Case No. 34-2010-80000583 (Super. Ct. Sacramento Cty., 2016, Dkt. No.
23 239).)

24 64. Public trust “fiduciary duties survive the enactment of SGMA.” (Environmental 25 Law Foundation, 26 Cal.App.5th at p. 865 n.7.)

26 65. Likewise, the Water Code’s water rights appropriation framework does not limit
27 the State’s authority to protect the public trust from harms resulting from groundwater extraction.
28 (Id. at p. 862.)

1       66. Whether the relevant state action is a ministerial act exempt from analysis under the 2 California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) “bears no relevance” to the State’s authority and
3 duty under the public trust doctrine. (Id. at p. 852 n.2.)

4       E. The County as an Administrator of the Public Trust

5       67. “A county is a legal subdivision of the state and references to the ‘state’ may 6 include counties.” (Id. at p. 867.)

7       68. A county “shares responsibility for administering the public trust and may not 8 approve of destructive activities without giving due regard to the preservation of these resources.”
9 (Environmental Law Foundation, 26 Cal.App.5th at p. 868 [internal quotations omitted].)

10       69. A county bears “a public trust duty to consider the impacts of new wells . . . when it 11 issues permits for construction of the wells.” (Id. at p. 854, quoting Envrl. Law Found. v. State
12 Water Res. Control Bd., Case No. 34-2010-80000583 (Super. Ct. Sacramento Cty., 2016, Dkt. No.
13 239).)

14       70. Where a county finds that “issuance of well permits will result in extraction of 15 groundwater adversely affecting the public’s right,” the county has a duty to “protect public trust
16 uses when feasible.” (Id. at pp. 853–54.)

17       71. An appropriate action may be brought when a “board of supervisors or any other 18 agency or subdivision of the state has failed to discharge its responsibilities under the public
19 trust.” (Center for Biological Diversity, 166 Cal.App.4th at p. 1370.)

20       V. Factual Background

21       A. Russian River Flow

22       72. The Russian River is a tributary to the Pacific Ocean, flowing 110 miles from 23 headwaters in central Mendocino County south into Sonoma County, meeting the Pacific Ocean at 24 Jenner, California. (Sonoma Water, Water Supply, <<https://www.sonomawater.org/water-supply>>
25 [as of June 22, 2021].)

26       73. The Russian River hydrological unit comprises 1,485 square miles, bounded on 27 both the east and west by the Coast Ranges. (North Coast Regional Water Quality Control Bd., 28 Russian River, <

1 https://www.waterboards.ca.gov/northcoast/water_issues/programs/watershed_info/russian_river/
2 > [as of June 22, 2021].) Major tributaries include: East Fork Russian River, Feliz Creek, and
3 Pieta Creek in Mendocino County; and Big Sulphur Creek, Dry Creek, Mark West Creek
4 (including Laguna de Santa Rosa), Green Valley Creek, and Austin Creek in Sonoma County.
5 (Ibid.)

6       74. The Russian River and its tributaries are navigable waterways protected by the 7 public trust doctrine and contain resources, such as endangered Coho salmon and other wildlife,
8 which are further protected by the public trust. (State Water Res. Control Bd. (“SWRCB”) Res.
9 No. 2011-0047, adding § 862 to Cal. Code Reg., tit. 23, div. 3.)

10       75. Intermittent streams, “defined by their predictable cessation of flows during dry
11 periods, are globally ubiquitous, and support a high diversity of freshwater and terrestrial species, 12 including at-risk species.” (Vander Vorste et al., Refuges and ecological traps: Extreme drought
13 threatens persistence of an endangered fish in intermittent streams (July 2020) vol. 26, No. 7,
14 Global Change Biology 3834, 3835 [internal citations omitted].)

15       76. Such streams “comprise up to 66% of the river network in California and are 16 inhabited by endangered juvenile Coho salmon, a species of cultural and commercial importance.”
17 (Ibid.)

18       77. Nearly all precipitation in the Russian River watershed occurs as rainfall between 19 November and April, resulting in streamflow that peaks during the winter and recedes throughout 20 the spring and summer. (Id. at p. 3837 [internal citations omitted].)

21       78. “Summer diversions tend to be high and summer streamflows tend to be low in 22 Russian River tributaries during normal water years. Low flow conditions can persist into the fall
23 in extremely dry years.” (SWRCB Res. No. 2015-0045 (June 17, 2015) p. 1.)

24       79. Human water demand during summer months can exceed available streamflow in 25 some tributaries. (See, e.g., Center for Ecosystem Management and Restoration, Report on the 26 Hydrologic Characteristics of Mark West Creek (Nov. 14, 2014) p. 24.)

27       80. Russian River streamflow is “influenced by water withdrawals from small-scale
28 direct diversions and streamside wells.” (Ibid.)

1       81.     “Wells for rural residential use or agriculture can place an enormous strain on 2 groundwater aquifer levels, which can in turn lower summer baseflows where aquifers and streams
3 are hydrologically connected.” (Lisa Van Atta, Nat. Marine Fisheries Service (“NMFS”), letter to 4 Nathan Quarels, Sonoma Cty. Permit & Resources Management Division (Aug. 26, 2014) at p. 2.)

5       82.     “In the Dutch Bill Creek, Green Valley Creek, Mark West Creek, and Mill Creek
6 watersheds, the connectivity between surface water and sub-surface water is significant, and sub-
7 surface withdrawals can have a significant effect on surface water flow.” (SWRCB Res. No. 2015-
8 0045, supra, at p. 2.)

9       83.     “Stream desiccation is likely the result of intensive groundwater pumping in this 10 semi-arid region.” (NMFS Southwest Region, Endangered Species Act Sec. 7 Consultation
11 Biological Opn. for Water Supply, Flood Control Operations, & Channel Maintenance (Sept. 24, 12 2008) p. 86.)

13      B. Detrimental Impacts of Groundwater Extraction on Coho Salmon Populations

14       84.     The Russian River and its tributaries support federally-listed endangered species such 15 as the Central California Coast (“CCC”) Coho salmon, California tiger salamanders, and California
16 freshwater shrimp, as well as federally-listed threatened species and state-listed species of special
17 concern including CCC Chinook salmon, CCC steelhead, chum salmon, western pond turtles,
18 western tailed frogs, and foothill yellow-legged frogs. (See Cal. Dept. of Fish & Wildlife, State &
19 Federally Listed Endangered & Threatened Animals of California (Feb. 9, 2021) and Cal. Dept. of 20 Fish & Wildlife, Special Animals List (Feb. 2021).)

21       85.     Large, self-sustaining populations of Coho salmon once occupied rivers and 22 streams within the Russian River watershed. (Vander Vorste et al., supra, at p. 3837.)

23       86.     However, the CCC Evolutionary Significant Unit of Coho salmon, which includes 24 Russian River populations, was “nearly extirpated by the late 1990s” and “listed as federally
25 endangered in 2005 (70 FR 37160).” (Ibid.)

26       87.     Since the Russian River watershed accounts for one third of the habitat of the 27 Evolutionarily Significant Unit of endangered CCC Coho salmon, “the survival and recovery of 28 CCC coho salmon will likely depend on a substantial positive trend in the growth rate and

1 abundance of coho salmon in the Russian River.” (NMFS Southwest Region, supra, Executive
2 Summary, p. xvi.)

3       88.     As of the most recent Endangered Species Act Section 7 Biological Opinion in 4 2008, “there is approximately 98 miles of coho salmon rearing habitat remaining in the Russian 5 River watershed. This remaining habitat is only 14% of the estimated original 710 miles of 6 historic coho salmon habitat in the Russian River watershed.” (NMFS Southwest Region, supra, at 7 p. 109.)

8       89.     In 2015, the State Water Resources Control Board (“SWRCB”) adopted a resolution
9 “to adopt a drought-related emergency regulation” specifically targeted at four Russian River
10 tributaries, Dutch Bill Creek, Green Valley Creek, Mark West Creek, and Mill Creek, identified as 11 high priority CCC Coho salmon spawning and rearing habitat. (SWRCB Res. No. 2015-0045, supra, 12 at p. 1.)

13       90.     The National Marine Fisheries Service (“NMFS”) Southwest Region determined 14 that “[u]rban, residential, and agricultural developments, timber harvest, road construction, water
15 supply and flood control management activities have had a collective adverse effect on the quality
16 and quantity of spawning, rearing, and migratory habitats for steelhead, coho salmon, and Chinook
17 salmon in the Russian River watershed.” (Id., Executive Summary, at p. x.)

18       91.     The degradation of “summer rearing habitat” is “one of the primary factors limiting 19 coho salmon production in the Coastal Diversity Stratum.” (Id. at p. 110.)

20       92.     “Insufficient summer streamflow has been identified as a bottleneck to recovery of 21 Russian River salmonid populations.” (California Sea Grant, 2020 Wetted Habitat Assessment
22 Overview (December 3, 2020) p. 1.)

23       93.     Coho salmon are “susceptible to ecological traps, especially when river flow
24 regimes are altered by anthropogenic activities. For example, Coho salmon (Oncorhynchus 25 kisutch) in the Shasta River of northern California successfully spawn in river reaches that now 26 become inhospitable during the juvenile rearing period as a consequence of increased human 27 water withdrawals.” (Vander Vorste et al., supra, at p. 3835.)

28       94.     Ecological traps can occur when residual pools, “the only suitable aquatic habitat

1 remaining within intermittent stream reaches,” become atypically dry due to drought and human
2 water withdrawals, leading to “declines in dissolved oxygen as well as increased water
3 temperatures, competition, and/or predation.” (Ibid. [internal citations omitted])

4       95. A study funded by the California Department of Fish and Wildlife (“CDFW”) and 5 NMFS analyzed hydrological and ecological data in four tributary watersheds between 2014 and 6 2017. (O’Connor Environmental, Inc. Salmonid Rearing Habitat Delineation & Restoration
7 Prioritization: East Austin, Pena, Mill, and Redwood Creek Watersheds (June 2018).) In the two 8 creeks for which sufficient data existed, the study determined that 84% and 93%, respectively, of 9 Coho were observed in stream reaches where pools become disconnected during drought events
10 and 32% and 42% were observed in stream reaches where pools become disconnected in years
11 with average stream flow. (Id. at pp. 44–45.)

12       96. Field observations demonstrate that “[h]ydrologic connectivity is critical in 13 supporting rearing juvenile coho salmon throughout the summer season” and that 14 “hydrogeological factors (e.g. clay substrate v. alluvium, riparian cover, land use, etc.) play a 15 strong role in influencing” variations in Coho survival rate. (Sarah Nossamon et al., Flow and 16 Survival Studies to Support Endangered Coho Recovery in Flow-Impaired Tributaries of the 17 Russian River Basin (May 2018) p. 3.)

18       97. Adult Coho salmon preferentially spawn in stream habitats with alluvial substrate, 19 which are “particularly sensitive to water withdrawals from diversions and groundwater pumping, 20 increasing the risk of dewatering redds and stranding juvenile fish.” (Id. at p. 3842 [internal 21 citations omitted].)

22       98. Groundwater extraction also reduces “the influx of cooler groundwater [that] tends 23 to keep instream surface waters cooler — a dynamic that is particularly important for cold-water
24 fish in late summer/early fall when ambient air temperatures tend to be warmer.” (Stanton Kibel et 25 al., Fisheries Reliant on Aquifers: When Groundwater Extraction Depletes Surface Water Flows, 26 54 U.S.F. L. Rev. 473, 481 (citing Torgersen et al., Env’tl. Prot. Agency, Primer for Identifying 27 Cold-Water Refuges to Protect and Restore Thermal Diversity in Riverine Landscapes (2012) p.
28 17).)

1           99.     “Water temperatures for good survival and growth of juvenile coho salmon range
2 from 10 to 15°C. Growth is slowed considerably at 18°C and ceases at 20°C.” (NMFS Southwest
3 Region, supra, at p. 52 [internal citations omitted].)

4           100.    When diminished streamflow leads to loss of connection between pools,
5 “movement of individuals among pools could no longer occur, preventing salmon from relocating
6 to pools that may have had more suitable environmental conditions as drought conditions
7 worsened over the summer.” (Vander Vorste et al., supra, at p. 3841.)

8           101.    In a 2016 letter to the Sustainable Groundwater Management Section of the 9 California Department of Water Resources, the NMFS West Coast Region stated that

10          Over-extraction of streamflow (both surface and hydrologically-linked groundwater) 11 within the state has been harming various salmon and steelhead populations for several 12 decades, and has been consistently noted as a leading threat to salmon and steelhead
13 survival in various NMFS recovery plans (e.g., NMFS 2012, 2013, 2014a, 2014b).

14          (Maria Rea & Lisa Van Atta, Nat. Marine Fisheries Service, letter to Cal. Dept. of Wat. Resources
15 Sustainable Groundwater Management Sec. (Jan. 12, 2016) at p. 2.)

16          102.    The SWRCB has also recognized the contribution of hydraulically connected 17 groundwater pumping to streamflow, including rapid reductions in stream stage, and the resulting 18 adverse effects to public trust resources and uses in the Russian River watershed specifically. (See,
19 e.g., SWRCB Res. No. 2011-0047 (Sept. 20, 2011) pp. 1–2; SWRCB Res. No. 2015-0045, supra, at p. 2.)

20          103.    Ongoing depletion of groundwater resources in the Russian River watershed has 21 contributed to persistent habitat loss for endangered Coho salmon and other public trust resources.

22          C. Failure of the County of Sonoma’s Water Well Permitting Standards to Consider and 23 Prevent Harm Where Feasible to Public Trust Resources and Uses

24          104.    Sonoma County Code of Ordinances chapter 25B sets forth standards regulating the 25 placement, construction, reconstruction, abandonment and destruction of wells and borings.

26          105.    Sonoma County Code of Ordinances section 25B-5 specifically delineates the 27 water well permit application process and criteria for application approval.

28          106.    Section 25B-5, subdivision (e)(1) provides that a “ministerial permit application

1 shall be approved, and a well construction, well reconstruction or well destruction permit issued”
2 when the proposed well specifications conform to the structural integrity and water quality
3 requirements detailed in Chapter 25B and, where applicable, any corresponding discretionary land
4 use permit has been issued and conditions fulfilled.

5       107. County water well permit issuance requirements contain no reference to 6 consideration of or prevention of harm where feasible to public trust resources or uses. (See
7 Sonoma Cty. Code Ord., § 25B-5.)

8       108. Permit Sonoma’s Policy and Procedure No. 9-2-28, implementing Sonoma County
9 Code of Ordinances section 7-12 regulating building permits in water scarce areas, sets forth
10 requirements for water well pump testing “for the purpose of demonstrating compliance with
11 minimum water quantity requirements of the Sonoma County Code for residential construction in 12 water scarce areas or second dwelling units in marginal water availability areas of Sonoma
13 County.” (Permit Sonoma, Policies and Procedures,
14 <<https://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/Policies-and-Procedures/#well-septic/>> [as of June 22,
15 2021].)

16       109. County well yield and recovery requirements contain no reference to consideration 17 of or prevention of harm where feasible to public trust resources or uses.

18       110. The County’s well permitting standards fail to satisfy its fiduciary duty to consider 19 adverse effects to public trust resources and uses when issuing water well permits.

20       111. The County’s well permitting standards fail to satisfy its fiduciary duty to prevent 21 harm to public trust resources and uses where feasible.

22       D. Failure of 2015 Ordinance Amendments to Incorporate Public Trust Considerations
23 and Protections Despite Notice of Such Duty

24       112. In 2015, Sonoma County Ordinance No. 6121 amended all sections of chapter 25B
25 in substantial part, including addition of nearly all language in section 25B-5. (Sonoma Cty. Ord.
26 No. 6121; see Internet Archive, Draft Ordinance with Strike-Outs and Underlines: Chapter 25B –
27 Water Wells, <https://web.archive.org/web/20161108091249/http://www.sonomacounty.org/prmd/docs/misc/ws\_ordinance-chapter25b-water-wells-draft-strike-out-underlined->

1 draft-20150702.pdf> [as of June 22, 2021].)

2       113. Upon receipt of “Sonoma County’s preliminary draft Well Ordinance” on August
3 11, 2014, NMFS submitted “general comments” to the County in an August 26, 2014 letter. (Van
4 Atta, supra.)

5       114. NMFS’s comments center on the agency’s concern that “the County’s draft Well
6 Ordinance and ministerial permitting process for groundwater well drilling is lacking important 7 measures necessary to safeguard steelhead and salmon populations from unauthorized take or 8 habitat degradation.” (Id. at p. 1.)

9       115. The comments explicitly draw the County’s attention to the Environmental Law
10 Foundation superior court decision, supra, handed down just months earlier and the County’s
11 public trust duty articulated therein:

12       Recent California Superior Court decisions (e.g., Scott River) found that the Public Trust
13 Doctrine protects stream and rivers from harm caused by extracting groundwater when that 14 extraction adversely affects public trust uses (Environmental Law Foundation, et al. v.
15 State Water Resources Control Bd., et al., Case No. 34-2010-80000583, July 14, 2014).
16 The court also determined that Siskiyou County, as a subdivision of the State, must 17 consider public trust resources when issuing groundwater well drilling permits.

19       116. NMFS characterizes the County’s well permitting scheme as “a ministerial process 20 with no analysis or consideration given to groundwater availability and potential impacts to 21 adjacent streamflow” and warns that “the end result of granting ministerial well permits absent
22 groundwater aquifer analysis is the steady, cumulative loss of summer baseflow and the attendant 23 disappearance of associated aquatic resources, including nursery habitats for steelhead and 24 salmon.” (Ibid.)

25       117. To avoid this result, NMFS instructs that “[t]he potential for any County-permitted
26 project to cause these impacts or exacerbate an already stressed situation should be adequately
27 investigated and analyzed prior to permit issuance.” (Id. at p. 1.)

28       118. Specifically, NMFS’s comments recommend that “the County should perform
CEQA review and adequately analyze groundwater/surface flow impacts before issuing well

1 drilling permits, an action that should be viewed as discretionary,” in order to “inform where and 2 when further groundwater development is consistent with the state goal of sustaining natural
3 groundwater and surface water functions.” (Id. at p. 2.)

4 119. The comments further state that groundwater pumping that “affects the aquifer-
5 surface flow connection . . . must legally have an appropriative water right.” (Ibid.)

6 120. The County made no changes to section 25B-5 in response to NMFS’s comments.

7 121. The County published the draft water well construction standards ordinance on 8 September 23, 2014, seeking public comments in writing and verbally at three scheduled
9 stakeholder meetings in anticipation of its presentation to the County Board of Supervisors.
10 (Permit Sonoma, Draft Water Well Construction Standards Ordinance,
11 <<https://web.archive.org/web/20161108091249/http://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/News/Draft-Water-Well-Construction-Standards-Ordinance/>> [as of June 22, 2021].)

12 122. The County published revised drafts of the Ordinance on March 25, 2015 and May 13 11, 2015. (Ibid.)

14 123. None of either set of revisions pertained to consideration of or prevention of harm 15 to public trust resources or uses. (See Internet Archive, Draft Ordinance with Strike-Outs and 16 Underlines: Chapter 25B - Water Wells,
17 <https://web.archive.org/web/20161108091256/http://www.sonomacounty.org/prmd/docs/misc/ws\_ordinance-chapter25b-water-wells-draft-strike-out-underlined-draft-20150511.pdf> [as of June 22, 2021].)

18 124. Despite NMFS’s clear notice of probable negative environmental impacts from the 19 adoption of Ordinance No. 6121, section IV of the Ordinance documents the Sonoma County
20 Board of Supervisors’ determination that its adoption was exempt from CEQA as “an action taken 21 to assure the maintenance, restoration, enhancement, and protection of natural resources and the 22 environment where the regulatory process involves procedures for protection of the environment” 23 and “because it can be seen with certainty that there is no possibility that this ordinance may have 24 a significant effect on the environment.” (Sonoma Cty. Ord. No. 6121, § IV.)

E. 404 Water Well Permits Issued in the Russian River Watershed Without Regard to Public Trust Duties Since Environmental Law Foundation Decision

125. On July 16, 2020, California Coastkeeper submitted to Permit Sonoma a Public Records Act request, pursuant to section 6250 et seq. of the Government Code, for access to any and all documents and communications received, kept, or maintained relating to water well permits and permit applications in the Russian River watershed issued and/or received by the County since January 1, 2010, as well as all documents relating to the County's guidelines for issuing such permits and any analysis of the impact of permit issuance on public trust resources, or the prevention of such impacts. (See Ex. B.)

126. On August 6, 2020, California Coastkeeper received an email from County employee Karen Brown stating that “Permit Sonoma’s Well & Septic division cannot search your request as submitted” without a list of parcel numbers or addresses associated with documents and communications relating to permits and permit applications. The email also referred to the volume of records requested and suggested directing a Public Records Act request to the State, as opposed to the County.

127. The August 6, 2020 email did not refer to or address California Coastkeeper's request for documents relating to the County's guidelines for issuing water well permits and any analysis of the impact of permit issuance on public trust resources, or the prevention of such impacts.

128. On August 21, 2020, California Coastkeeper received an email from County employee Cheryl Cornett with two attachments:

- (1) an initial response letter, asserting various statutory production exemptions and directing California Coastkeeper to query publicly accessible permit documents at <http://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/Services/Document-Search/> (see Ex. C);
  - (2) a spreadsheet containing permit numbers, approval status, application start date, permit issuance data, parcel number, and site address for 2,041 well permits issued between January 5, 2010 and August 17, 2020 (see Ex. D).

1           129. The letter also instructed California Coastkeeper that “If you need additional
2 information, we ask that you refine your request if possible. . . If you are unable to access publicly
3 available data or narrow your request, the County will devote 1-2 hours per week to this request as 4 time allows.”

5           130. Neither the August 21, 2020 email nor attached documents refer to or address
6 California Coastkeeper’s request for documents relating to the County’s guidelines for issuing
7 water well permits and any analysis of the impact of water well permit issuance on public trust
8 resources, or the prevention of such impacts. (See Ex. C, D.)

9           131. California Coastkeeper narrowed the permit dataset provided by the County to 404
10 permit numbers issued after August 29, 2018, the date of the Environmental Law Foundation
11 decision, supra, providing the County clear notice of its duty as an administrator of California’s 12 public trust to consider and prevent, where feasible, adverse effects to public trust resources and 13 uses when issuing water well permits. (See Ex. A.)

14           132. Permit Sonoma database query results of the 404 permit numbers yielded the 15 following results:

- 16                 (1) Queries of 139 permit numbers returned no documents;
- 17                 (2) Queries of 69 permit numbers returned some documents or correspondence 18                         related to a permit application without any copy or image of such application;
- 19                 (3) Queries of 151 permit numbers returned a copy or image of an approved permit 20                         application;
- 21                 (4) Queries of 27 additional permit numbers returned a copy or image of a permit 22                         application only, without indication of approval;
- 23                 (5) Queries of 144 permit numbers returned a copy or image of a well completion 24                         report.

25           133. No permit number query returned any documents with any language referring to or 26 indicating consideration or prevention of harm to public trust resources and uses when issuing 27 water well permits.

28           134. The likelihood of individual and cumulative impacts from water well permits

1 issued in the Russian River watershed on public trust resources and uses is not subject to 2 reasonable dispute.

4 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

5 Against Respondent Count of Sonoma
6 Pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure § 1085
7 For Failure to Comply with the Non-Discretionary Public Trust Duty
to Consider Adverse Effects to Public Trust Resources and Uses
When Issuing Water Well Permits

8 135. Petitioner California Coastkeeper herein incorporates each preceding paragraph of 9 this Petition.

10 136. Since adoption of current water well permitting standards in 2015, the County of 11 Sonoma has issued hundreds of permits without regard for their individual and cumulative
12 contribution to diminishing the flow of the Russian River and its tributaries and the resulting 13 habitat loss to species protected by California law, including endangered Coho salmon.

14 137. Despite both the 2014 NMFS comments on its draft well ordinance and the 2018
15 Environmental Law Foundation decision giving clear notice that the public trust doctrine applies
16 to groundwater extraction adversely affecting public trust resources and uses, the County of 17 Sonoma has continued to issue water well permits in contravention of its duty to consider adverse 18 effects on public trust resources and uses.

19 138. Specifically, the County of Sonoma has failed to consider the adverse effects of 20 increased groundwater extraction on the flow of the Russian River and its tributaries and thereby 21 on those and other public trust resources and uses reliant on sufficient water flow, including 22 endangered Coho salmon.

23 139. Groundwater over-extraction has had and continues to have significant, deleterious
24 effects on the flow of the Russian River and its tributaries and thereby on those and other public
25 trust resources and uses reliant thereon, including endangered Coho salmon.

26 140. In violation of California's public trust doctrine, the County of Sonoma did not 27 consider and has not considered adverse effects on public trust resources and uses when issuing water well permits, despite their adverse effects on public trust resources and uses.

141. Between August 29, 2018, the date after the Environmental Law Foundation decision, and August 21, 2020, the date of Permit Sonoma's response to California Coastkeeper's Public Records Act request, County of Sonoma abrogated its duty to consider the public trust as to at least 404 water well permits in the Russian River watershed.

142. The County, as a subdivision of the State, has failed and continues to fail to discharge its ongoing, affirmative duty to consider impacts on public trust resources and uses as a trustee for the people of California.

143. The facts and the law relating to this action are not subject to reasonable dispute, and it appears from this Petition that California Coastkeeper is reasonably entitled to the relief demanded.

144. California Coastkeeper has no plain, speedy, or adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law because the County of Sonoma will continue to violate the public trust doctrine unless compelled to comply by the Court.

145. Thus, an actual controversy between California Coastkeeper and the County exists concerning the County's compliance with California's public trust doctrine.

WHEREFORE, California Coastkeeper prays for the relief set forth below.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

Against Respondent County of Sonoma
Pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure § 1085
For Failure to Comply with the Non-Discretionary Public Trust Duty to Prevent Harm to Public Trust Resources and Uses Where Feasible

146. Petitioner California Coastkeeper herein incorporates each preceding paragraph of this Petition.

147. Since adoption of current water well permitting standards in 2015, the County of Sonoma has issued hundreds of water well permits without regard for their individual and cumulative contribution to diminishing the flow of the Russian River and its tributaries and the resulting habitat loss to species protected by California law, including endangered Coho salmon.

1           148. Despite both the 2014 NMFS comments on its draft well ordinance and the 2018
2 Environmental Law Foundation decision giving clear notice that the public trust doctrine applied
3 to groundwater extraction adversely affecting public trust resources and uses, the County of 4 Sonoma has continued to issue water well permits in contravention of its duty to prevent harm to 5 public trust resources and uses where feasible.

6           149. Specifically, the County of Sonoma has failed to mitigate, where feasible, the 7 individual and cumulative impacts of increased groundwater extraction on the flow of the Russian 8 River and its tributaries and thereby on those and other public trust resources and uses reliant on 9 sufficient water flow, including endangered Coho salmon.

10          150. Groundwater over-extraction has had and continues to have significant, deleterious
11 effects on the flow of the Russian River and its tributaries and thereby on those and other public
12 trust resources and uses reliant thereon, including endangered Coho salmon.

13          151. In violation of California's public trust doctrine, the County of Sonoma did not
14 consider and has not considered adverse effects on public trust resources and uses when issuing
15 water well permits, despite their adverse effects on public trust resources and uses.

16          152. Between August 29, 2018, the date after the Environmental Law Foundation
17 decision, and August 21, 2020, the date of Permit Sonoma's response to California Coastkeeper's
18 Public Records Act request, County of Sonoma abrogated its duty to prevent harm to the public
19 trust where feasible as to at least 404 water well permits issued by Permit Sonoma in the Russian 20 River watershed where endangered Coho salmon have been documented.

21          153. In violation of California's public trust doctrine, the County of Sonoma, as a
22 subdivision of the State, has failed and continues to fail to discharge its ongoing, affirmative duty
23 to protect and conserve public trust resources and uses as a trustee for the people of California.

24          154. The facts and the law relating to this action are not subject to reasonable dispute,
25 and it appears from this Petition that California Coastkeeper is reasonably entitled to the relief 26 demanded.

27          155. California Coastkeeper has no plain, speedy, or adequate remedy in the ordinary 28 course of law because the County of Sonoma will continue to violate the public trust doctrine unless compelled to comply by the Court.

156. Thus, an actual controversy between California Coastkeeper and the County exists concerning the County's compliance with California's public trust doctrine.

WHEREFORE, California Coastkeeper prays for the relief set forth below.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

157. Petitioner California Coastkeeper prays that this Court issue a Writ of Mandate ordering Respondent County of Sonoma to comply with its nondiscretionary duties as an administrator of the public trust when issuing water well permits for groundwater extraction.

158. California Coastkeeper prays that this Court mandate the County of Sonoma adopt and implement, via ordinance or other legal requirement, policies and procedures necessary to ensure due consideration of the individual and cumulative impacts of water well permits on public trust resources and uses, including not only Coho salmon and other wildlife and ecosystems, but the Russian River itself.

159. California Coastkeeper prays that this Court mandate the County of Sonoma adopt and implement, via ordinance or other legal requirement, policies and procedures necessary to prevent harm, so far as feasible, from the individual and cumulative impacts of water well permits to public trust resources and uses, including not only Coho salmon and other wildlife and ecosystems, but the Russian River itself.

160. California Coastkeeper prays that this Court enjoin the County of Sonoma from issuing any water well permits for groundwater extraction unless and until the County has adopted and implemented, via ordinance or other legal requirement, policies and procedures to ensure compliance with its nondiscretionary public trust duties.

161. California Coastkeeper seeks other injunctive and/or declaratory relief, as appropriate.

162. California Coastkeeper further seeks an award of reasonable fees and costs for bringing suit for the County of Sonoma's violations of State law as provided under Code of Civil Procedure Section 1021.5; and

1           163. Any such other relief as the Court deems just and proper.

Re: Public Records Act Request

To Whom It May Concern:

Pursuant to the California Public Records Act, California Government Code section 6250 et seq., California Coastkeeper Alliance (“CCKA”) requests access to the County of Sonoma (“County”) documents received, kept, or maintained by the County relating to water wells in Sonoma County.

Specifically, CCKA hereby requests that the County provide access to any and all of the following documents, including any records on electronic media. The term “Documents” is defined for purposes of this Public Records Act Request as a writing, defined in California Evidence Code section 250, and includes the original or copy of handwriting, typewriting, printing, photostatic, electronic, photographic, and every other means of recording upon any tangible thing and form of communication or representation, including letters, words, pictures, sounds or symbols, or combinations of the same.

- All water well permits and applications for drilling water wells in the Russian River Watershed<sup>1</sup> that the County of Sonoma has issued and/or received since January 1, 2010.
- All water well permits and applications for deepening water wells in the Russian River Watershed that the County of Sonoma has issued and/or received since January 1, 2010.
- All communications since January 1, 2010, including letters, mail, e-mail, or notes from meetings or phone conversations among County of Sonoma staff or between County staff and water well permit applicants regarding the issuance and/or application for a water well drilling permit in the Russian River Watershed.
- All communications since January 1, 2010, including letters, mail, e-mail, or notes from meetings or phone conversations among County of Sonoma staff or between County staff and water well permit applicants regarding the issuance and/or application for a water well deepening permit in the Russian River Watershed.
- All documents that refer, relate, or pertain to the County of Sonoma’s guidelines for issuing permits for the drilling of new water wells in the Russian River Watershed.

<sup>1</sup> The term “Russian River Watershed” is used herein to mean and reflect the same parameters of land and water as the term is defined and used by the California Water Boards, available here: https://www.waterboards.ca.gov/northcoast/water\_issues/programs/watershed\_info/russian\_river/

- All documents that refer, relate, or pertain to the County of Sonoma's guidelines for issuing permits for the deepening of existing water wells in the Russian River Watershed.
- All documents that refer, relate, or pertain to any analysis of the impact of issuance of water well permits on public trust resources, or prevention of the impact of water well permit issuance on public trust resources in the Russian River Watershed.

Government Code section 6253 states that “[p]ublic records are open to inspection at all times during the office hours of the state or local agency and every person has a right to inspect any public record.”

If all or part of the request is denied, please provide the name, address, and telephone number of the agency official responsible for the denial, and the official responsible for the appeals of denied requests. Also, if portions of the requested records are exempt from release, CCKA requests that all reasonable segregable, nonexempt portions of those records be released. CCKA reserves all rights to appeal the withholding or deletion of any information.

In addition, if records are withheld, CCKA requests that the County specifically identifies those records by providing a list of records being withheld with an accompanying explanation of the exemptions being used to withhold the requested records. This list should include the title and brief description of each of the withheld records, any date or dates associated with each of the withheld records, and a list of attachments, appendices, amendments, or other materials included with each of the withheld records.

If the County's search fails to identify the requested records, CCKA requests that it receive (1) a description in detail of the search procedure, including the information about the files that were searched, (2) identification of the person or persons who conducted the search, and (3) an explanation regarding why a more comprehensive search of your offices would be unreasonable.

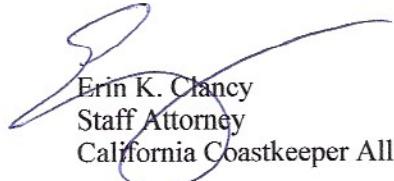

As this request is by and for a 501(c)(3) public interest organization interested in the complete execution of all applicable laws for the protection of human health and the environment and open government, CCKA requests a waiver of any and all costs associated with the satisfaction of this request. A public agency is required under prevailing law to consider this fee waiver request, and failure to do so is an abuse of discretion subject to judicial review. (See North County Parent Organization v. Department of Education, (1994) 23 Cal.App.4th 144, 148.) Please advise the undersigned of any informational or other procedural requirements that the County may have for this request to qualify for a fee waiver. If the County is unable to waive the fees associated with the satisfaction of this request, please notify the undersigned immediately of any payment required prior to copying any documents. Should the County determine that a waiver of fees is not available, and we continue to disagree about the costs of providing copies of the information requested, CCKA requests that the County allows us to bring our own equipment to scan and/or copy the information ourselves in the County's office. If any of the documents are available in electronic format, or on the internet, we request that the County provide electronic copies or citations to the internet web address where the document(s) can be located.

If our request is approved, CCKA asks that you direct your response to the undersigned by way of the contact information set forth as follows:

As the Public Records Act requires a response within ten (10) days, the undersigned looks forward to hearing from the County within that period. (See Gov. Code sec. 6253(c).) CCKA looks forward to working with the County on this document request to minimize the imposition on its staff. If the County requires any information to facilitate this request, or if anyone wishes to discuss ways to facilitate this document production or reduce its costs, please do not hesitate to contact our office. Thank you for your assistance in this matter and anticipated cooperation.

Re: Public Records Act Request

Dear Ms. Clancy,

The County is writing to respond to the Public Records Act requests you submitted on July 16, 2020 and August 6, 2020. You requested the following information:

- All water well permits and applications for drilling water wells in the Russian River Watershed that the County of Sonoma has issued and/or received since January 1, 2010.
- All water well permits and applications for deepening water wells in the Russian River Watershed that the County of Sonoma has issued and/or received since January 1, 2010.
- All communications since January 1, 2010, including letters, mail, email or notes from meetings or phone conversations among County of Sonoma staff or between County staff and water well permit applicants regarding the issuance and/or application for a water well drilling permit in the Russian River Watershed.
- All communications since January 1, 2010, including letters, mail, email or notes from meetings or phone conversations among County of Sonoma staff or between County staff and water well permit applicants regarding the issuance and/or application for a water well deepening permit in the Russian River Watershed.
- All documents that refer, relate or pertain to the County of Sonoma's guidelines for issuing permits for the drilling of new water wells in the Russian River Watershed.
- All documents that refer, relate, or pertain to the County of Sonoma's guidelines for issuing permits for the deepening of existing water wells in the Russian River Watershed.

- All documents that refer, relate or pertain to any analysis of the impact of issuance of water well permits on public trust resources, or prevention of the impact of water well permit issuance on public trust resources in the Russian River Watershed.
- A request for additional information about well permits on over 650 parcels.

While the County is committed to providing access to all of its public records, to the extent such documents are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the various production exemptions set forth in the Public Records Act, including, but not limited to, the attorney-client privilege and work product doctrine (Government Code section 6254(k)); Government Code section 6276.04; Business and Professions Code section 6068; and Evidence Code section 952 et seq.); Government Code section 6254(c) and Cal. Const. I Sec. I (private, personnel or similar files, the disclosure of which would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy); Government Code section 6254(a) (preliminary drafts, notes or interagency or intra-agency memoranda that are not retained by the public agency in the ordinary course of business, if the public interest in withholding those records clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure); Government Code section 6254(f) (records of investigation and/or investigatory and security files); Government Code section 6254(k); Health and Safety Code section 18950-51 and 17 U.S.C.S. section 106(a)(1)-(3) (copyrighted protected works); Government Code section 6255 (under the facts of the matter, the public interest served by not making the record public clearly outweighs the public interest served by disclosure of the record, including deliberative process), the County reserves the right to withhold nondisclosable records or to redact any information that is exempt from disclosure under applicable state and federal law.

Given the breadth of this latest request, substantial staff time would be expended to search for, identify and produce responsive documents subject to disclosure. Instead, a significantly more efficient approach is for you to review publicly available data that is free of charge. Attached to this letter, the County is providing you with a list of over two thousand well permit data including assessor's parcel numbers and addresses. You can use that data to access additional information at this link: <http://sonomacounty.ca.gov/PRMD/Services/Document-Search/>. The County assumes this approach will satisfy your request for documents and provide you with all of the public documents you seek.

If you need additional information, we ask that you refine your request if possible. I am available to assist with narrowing your request and clarifying the specific records you seek. If you cannot narrow your request, please be advised that we will be producing documents on a rolling basis in accordance with the limited availability of our staff for this undertaking. As you may be aware, the County of Sonoma has multiple declaration of emergencies due to the global pandemic, the uncontained fires, and the homeless crisis. If you are unable to access publicly available data or narrow your request, the County will devote 1-2 hours per week to this request as time allows.

Best regards,

Linda Schiltgen
